HUGHES-DERR

At the Royal Hotel, Edmonton South, on Tuesday July 6th, 1915, Jane Ruth Derr, of Edmonton was wedded to Arthur C. Hughes, of Jenner. The bride was charmingly attired in Marquiseat, covered with French veil, and wore a veil, also yellow tea roses in her dress. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. Val Tilton, the friends and relatives of the groom and bride set down to a delicious repast served at the Royal Hotel. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes in Alderson offer congratulations.

THURSDAY, JULY 29th 1915

NOW that the Liquor Act has been voted in by such a decisive majority, the temperance question will gradually pass from people's minds. In Western Canada at least, the thoughts of all people will gradually turn to the bountiful harvest, everyone will be doing a little bit for the nation. A nation's fighting ability is in many ways in direct ratio to its wheat and oats supply. Every effort should be made to reap the greatest possible benefits from the crops. In districts where labor is going to be very scarce, it will be no uncommon thing to see the store man or the office man shut up the shop or office and his himself to the harvest. Every available man should be pressed into this service. We know of several instances in this district where the women folks are preparing to work right alongside their husbands or brothers. One lady is so expert with horses, that she has already signed a contract for the harvest with her husband at $5 per day to drive a binder. With this spirit in evidence the big crops will be garnered in safety.

SCHOOL tax notices have been issued. The News hasn't paid their own yet, but we consider it our duty to do so at once. The board is making arrangements to have two first class teachers here this fall and winter: and their salaries must be paid.

MEN WHO KNOW ENDORSE THE IDEA

What Four Prominent Canadian Premiers Say of "Made-In-Canada"

"Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce: 'I have noticed with great interest the campaign being so ably conducted in favor of the 'Made-in-Canada' idea. I am viewing the matter, of course, entirely from the point of view of unemployment and cannot rid myself of the conviction that one of the best remedies possible is that we who buy in Canada—and all of us buy more or less—shall make it a point wherever possible, to purchase for our needs what has been made by Canadian hands and of Canadian material. In this way we would considerably assist in the quick reduction of unemployment and the quick reviving of production and trade.'

"Hon. Walter Scott, Premier of Saskatchewan: 'If all Canadians learned to consistently prefer the manufactures of their own country, as they do unconsciously prefer their natural products, there would be a splendid twofold result—the sale of our national property would be increased, and more important still, the sum of our pride and confidence in Canada would be increased also.'

"Hon. G. H. Murray, Premier of Nova Scotia: 'The "Made-in-Canada" campaign has my heartiest sympathy.
I am sure it will meet with a general response from all Canadians. The movement aims at the development not only of a practical patriotism but also of a fine spirit of mutual helpfulness among our people.'

"Sir Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia: 'I am very glad to say anything that I can in support of the most commendable idea contained in your programme. One of the effects of this war has been to arouse the people of Canada to the necessity of a greater production of various lines of industry, and I know of nothing which will tend to promote this more than the campaign you are now engaged in.'

STORY OF A STORE

Tom Tasker had a corner store.
He got it from his father who built up his trade from the farmers that spent their money for things made in Canada. Tasker grew into a little town of cement sidewalks and electric lights. Tom's business developed and he got an automobile, a $10,000 house, and a big new store with plate glass, patent show-cases and a stenographer.

The blacksmith shop grew into a carriage factory; the local cabinet-maker became a furniture manufacturer.
A few years ago when a wide-awake man discovered that the country around Taskerville had the very best kind of soil and climate for raising tomatoes, cucumbers, field peas, corn and small fruits, and reckoned it a good stroke of business to start a canning factory in Taskerville, the farmers fetched their truck to the factory which became as good a pur-veyor of canned goods as any in Canada. Its products were found in the mining camps and the kitchens of the wealthy that went up grand opera. But whenever any farmer went to the store of Tom Tasker, built up from their farms in two generations, they never could find a blessed tin of the Taskerville factory's goods on his shelves. When they asked him why he wouldn't encourage home industry and stock up with home goods, he said he reckoned he knew his own business.

Wherever the farm folk round about Taskerville boycotted the Tas-ker store, and Tom Tasker made an assignment. Which, to most sensible folks' way of thinking was the only way to prove to the Tasker intellect that you can't expect both boots to fit the same foot.

This is a homely illustration and localised to Taskerville; but if it doesn't prove that it's the business of the retailer in Canada to keep on his shelves the goods made in Canada by Canadian workmen at a time when Canada is making the fight of her life to stay industrially efficient—then there must be something wrong with the argument. Think it over.

Buy an Irrigated Farm FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rain and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years' to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved quantities.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record

SHOP TALK No. 1

FROM time to time the News will in this space give its readers a peep behind the scenes in a print shop. Publicity in any legitimate trade is a splendid thing for the trade. We believe in publicity for ourselves and hope to convince others in these shop talks that judicial advertising will assist any business.

We know that a correctly worded well written ad. pays for itself in many ways. A leading merchant in this town told us a few weeks ago that in their advertising they had drawn particular attention to a certain line of stock carried. A demand for this brand of goods had resulted that they could hardly satisfy. It was good goods, and all that was needed was the proper publicity in this district to make it a household want.

Every day or so, some satisfied customer of our want column, comes in and tells us how easy they disposed of the goods advertised: we can back that up too. A farmer near town wanted some ready cash, not so long ago. He decided to part with one of his milch cows. A three line ad. in the News sold the cow before the paper was a day old. Another man advertised his land. He was deluged with enquiries. We can give you his name.

A merchant in a town not a thousand miles from here, carried a whole half page in his local paper for a complete year. At the end of the year he gave the local editor a sworn statement that his advertising had only cost him fifty cents for every hundred dollars worth of business he had done. If you don't get that, read it again. It is a remarkable statement.

The merchants of this town, before times got so hard, carried much more space. They lost nothing by doing so. Money will soon be in circulation in this district and we look for a revival in advertising. Come in and talk over your advertising with us. Our rates are as low as we can make them and keep our paper up to the mark. We know the people of this neighborhood appreciates the efforts of the News to give all the news all the time. Why do we know this? Of all the renewals received in the last two weeks, only one man demurred at paying the extra 50 cents per year.

The News learns that a direct appeal for support to the Patriotic Fund, Red Cross Fund and Belgian Relief, will shortly be made throughout Southern Alberta; and that this district will not be overlooked. While the response of the public in the past has been decidedly generous, the need is very great indeed; and must increase as the war continues. We understand that the committee in charge will co-operate with the United Farmers of Alberta and other organizations, and meetings will be held at the principal centres, where the purpose of the funds, and the methods of their distribution, will be discussed in detail. While cash subscriptions are highly desirable, it is likely that an opportunity will be given to the farmers to make donations in grain, to be delivered after harvest. This will enable our agricultural population, whose patriotism and generosity is not second to that of any other class, to have a share in this good work, which might be difficult for them at the present time if cash donations only were accepted. Fuller announcement will be made at an early date.

Harry W. Johnson is in Edmonton this week, in connection with his official position as Returning Officer for the Liquor vote.

H. K. Ross, of Mantana, Illinois, is expected in Alderson shortly to visit his father, A. J. Ross, and to help harvest the big crop on the Ross farm.

The News so far cannot substantiate the rumor that the farmers are using ladders to measure their grain.

The news that hail did some damage to the crops in the south country will be regretted by all. The principal sufferers were Messrs. Clarkson and McLelland who lost a big percentage of their crops of wheat and oats.

Herb Johnson has received a card from his friend Geo. McKee that he is enjoying his vacation at Akron Ohio.

Jenner

The Horv Grain Company Limited have commenced building operations on their elevator here.

Jenner is getting more and more like New York every day.

The people of Jenner evidently want prohibition; only ten votes were polled on July 21st for a "wet Alberta."

A. C. Hughes returned last week from a vacation spent in Edmonton. While there, he was married to Miss J. R. Derr. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will in all probability make their home in Jenner.

We wonder why the cow bells were ringing last week. Probably Arthur knows!

W. A. Bohd, who had his horse killed by lightning a short time ago, will purchase another from the Vee Bar Vee ranch in a few days.
